WALK-IN COLD SHOT ROOM

The Cold Shot Room

When we first put this concept together it was very important to us that we create something that stands out from the crowd, something that was new and unique. We considered many wild ideas, but in the end none of these made it off the drawing board.

Until one day when Brandon told us a story about these two guys he met from Nerang, which is a city in Queensland, Australia. The Australian gents told about this cool little Ice bar right off the Gold Coast Highway that was made completely from ice. As the legend has it, this Ice Bar can be traced back to the end of the 19th century, when a New Zealand explorer and adventurer, Buck Rockwell, set out on a daring one-man expedition to circumnavigate the North Pole. Buck started having problems and when his icepick became stuck in the Arctic ice pack, he was forced to endure the winter in a remote whaling village with only the local fisherwomen and copious amounts of vodka to keep him warm.

In 1908, Buck finally returned to New Zealand, bringing with him the story of his polar adventures and a taste for pure, ice cold vodka, not to mention large fisherwomen. It has been said that his legacy was passed on by generations and in turn a man claiming to be his great-grandson, created the world's first frozen vodka bar in New Zealand.

Right then and there we knew what we had to do. We started putting together our very own Walk-In Cold Shot Room. The concept was that the Shot Room would be exclusive yet obtainable. In addition to lining the room with bottles of the Worlds best vodkas, we created vodka flights. Once you buy your flight you can spread your shots throughout the course of the night. Take a shot, hit up the dance floor, take a shot, watch the Spazmatics, and yep right back to that Cold Shot Room. The other option is to purchase a bottle. The nice thing about our Cold Shot bottle service is that there is no rush to finish your bottle that night. You drink what you want, leave your bottle with us, and your bottle will be sitting in the Walk-In Cold Shot Room with your name on it when you return. We set our Cold Shot Room at an ice cold 15 degrees, but don't worry coats are available so you can enjoy the experience!

In the end we truly created something unique, California's best Walk-In Cold Shot Room. In fact, not only is it the best it's the only one on the West Coast. We've created a Hot Spot or should we say a Cold Spot!
